This weekend we celebrate Confirmation and the Gifts of the Holy Spirit in the lives of our Confirmandi. Come Holy Spirit and bless these young men and women in powerful ways. Guide them in ways of holiness and right.

Thanksgiving Day Masses: Wednesday vigil mass will be at 6:30 pm at St. Casimir and Thursday Mass will be at 9:00 am at Our Lady of Mount Carmel.

I am working on the Christmas schedule. I apologize already that the times will not be what we are used to having. This year the 4th Sunday of Advent is on Dec. 24 and Christmas Eve is later on the same day. Priests to be available to help are already in short supply and everyone wants help. With my illness I don't have the energy to celebrate many Masses (one a day exhausts me). I will do my best to make it all work. God bless us as we soon enter the Advent season.

Augustine Sermon 272

One thing is seen, another is to be understood. What you can see on the altar, you also saw last night; but what it was, what it meant, of what great reality it contained the sacrament, you had not yet heard. So what you can see, then, is bread and a cup; that's what even your eyes tell you; but as for what your faith asks to be instructed about, the bread is the body of Christ, the cup the blood of Christ. It took no time to say that indeed, and that, perhaps, may be enough for faith; but faith desires instruction. The prophet says, you see, Unless you believe, you shall not understand (Is 7:9).

How can bread be his body? And the cup, or what the cup contains, how can it be his blood?" The reason these things, brothers and sisters, are called sacraments is that in them one thing is seen, another is to be understood. What can be seen has a bodily appearance, what is to be understood provides spiritual fruit. So if you want to understand the body of Christ, listen to the apostle telling the faithful, You, though, are the body of Christ and its members (1 Cor 12:27). So if it's you that are the body of Christ and its members, it's the mystery meaning you that has been placed on the Lord's table; what you receive is the mystery that means you. It is to what you are that you reply Amen, and by so replying you express your assent. What you hear, you see, is The body of Christ, and you answer, Amen. So be a member of the body of Christ, in order to make that Amen true

Thanks, Arnie

The spirit of the Lord shall rest upon him:

A spirit of wisdom and of understanding,

A spirit of counsel and of strength,

A spirit of knowledge and of fear of the Lord,

And his delight shall be the fear of the Lord.

Isaiah 11:2-3a
