From Father Havel...

As Jesus sent the disciples out to proclaim the good news of the Kingdom of God he instructed them as he said, "Whatever town you enter and they do not receive you, go out into the streets and say, 'the dust of your town that clings to our feet, even that we shake off against you.' Yet know this! the Kingdom of God is at hand." These words of Jesus stand in sharp contrast to his words of life as he says, "Whatever town you enter and they welcome you, eat whatever is set before you, cure the sick in it and say to them," The Kingdom of God is at hand for you."

The Kingdom of God is at hand and it is not dependent upon our believing in God's mercy and love. God calls all people to faith. May all people choose to embrace the love of God. Come Lord Jesus and increase in us the gift of faith.

~Fr. Greg

Diocesan CCW meetings

The First meeting is Wednesday, July 11 for a quarterly board meeting. All women are invited. It will be in West Concord's St. John's. The guest speakers are from Respect Life Commission and Family and Community Commission. With the recent Supreme Court decision it is important that we learn about the impact and the Catholic response. Katie Koziolk will be attending and will take anyone who wants to go. Call 507-402-6340. Announcement of the DCCW Convention is in the Courier and I'm trying to download the flyer for it. It is the event where we collect the items for Haiti Missions and for Rochester Medical Missionaries. It would be nice to have someone in charge of the collections for the parish. Kathy Schultz helps with the Sewing Circle's products.

Note: I'm in the process of moving to Albert Lea, retiring from the Freeborn farm, and will be changing parishes, but will stay on the diocesan CCW board for a while so will remain active in NCCW. I wish I could have helped re-generate our local chapter since we do many more things than just serve funerals. And we learn more about our faith.

Congratulations to our raffle winners, and all are very grateful to those who bought tickets and made very generous donations!
