PRAYER & WORSHIP

26th Ordinary Sunday, September 28, 2025-C Cycle

Readings: Amos 6:1, 4-7; 1 Timothy 6:11-16; Luke 16:19-31

Prophet Amos gives a warning to the people of Israel reminding them that they cannot afford to remain in luxury ignoring those suffering around them. He warns against those who feel secure, are at ease and do not grieve over the ruin of others.

Amassing large estates and building up profitable stock portfolios are not the stuff that true legacies are made of. We will be remembered not for what we possess but for what we give; our lasting legacy will be what we contribute to make our world a happier, healthier place.

The rich man treated the beggar with contempt and indifference, until he found his fortunes reversed at the end of his life! In God's economy, those who hold on possessively to what they have, lose it all in the end, while those who share generously receive back many times more than they gave away.

God speaks to us in many ways and touches our lives, but we often fail to listen to Him. He speaks to us in gentle ways and guides us in our weakness. The Gospel of today gives us a quick clue regarding the Kingdom values which are different from all worldly values.

It tells us that we as the children of God have the obligation and duty to look after our brothers and sisters and care for them. We all belong to one family of God.

Do we know the joy and freedom of possessing God as our true and lasting treasure? Those who put their hope and security in the kingdom of heaven will not be disappointed (Hebrews 6:19).

"Lord Jesus, you are my joy and my treasure. Make me rich in the things of your heavenly kingdom and give me a generous heart that I may freely share with others the spiritual and material treasures you have given to me." ~ Fr. Pratap
